

This photograph by Alan Warren was published in the Messenger-Inquirer on March 1, 2017.

Truman stands ‘trial’

Photo by Alan Warren, Messenger-Inquirer/awarren@messenger-inquirer.com

Zack Kessinger, center, testifies as an expert on genocide, during a mock trial brought posthumously against President Harry S Truman for violating Article 6 of the Nuremberg Charter, which outlaws the “wanton destruction” of populated areas that do not have a significant military presence on Tuesday at Heritage Park High School. “This trial incorporates standards from both English 3 and U.S. History through the development of argumentative and persuasive speech and through the exploration of the Second World War’s impact on domestic and international society,” said U.S. History teacher Joshua Scherrer through a press release.